Description: Your day will start with a bus ride to the El Yunque Rainforest, recently elected finalist of the world-renowned competition Seven Natural wonders of the World, for its diversity. Your adventure takes place in the interior of the forest, down to the beautiful Las Damas natural pool in the Mameyes River system. Within the 28,000 acres reserve, you will enjoy lush plants, hardwood trees, cloud forests, dwarf forest, rivers, birds, insects, lizards and beautiful flowers. The rich culture and historical background make for a breathtaking day via the guided nature walk.

Tour day will start with a relaxing ride to Angelitos Trail in the lowlands of the National Rain Forest called the El Yunque. Waivers and group safety orientation will be completed during the bus ride. After receiving commentary and seeing the natural wonders from the bus, you will arrive at the drop point where you will start your adventure into the interior of the rainforest. Here, you will receive a lightweight backpack including, towel, snack and one bottle of water.

You will begin your walk along a natural trail into the forest. Your guide will provide information along the walk relating to the flora, fauna, ecology and history behind the rainforest.

As the walk progresses, you will see and hear many beautiful sights and sounds, such as a crystal clear river that flows through the rocks and trees along the walking path. Once you have reached the break point at Las Damas pool at a beautiful scenic area of the Mameyes River in its higher stages, the group will stop and relax by the riverside, enjoy snacks and cold water, or go for a refreshing swim, if weather conditions allow. After the 25-30 minute break, your group will start the return.

Note: Trail may be muddy in certain areas, a change of clothes and bag for muddy items is suggested. This tour is not appropriate for guests with limited mobility or pregnant women.

Cost: $88.00 per person, includes tour and transportation.

Description: Did you know that about 60% of the El Yunque rainforest inhabitants are nocturnal, and are very seldom seen during the daytime? Enchanted Island Eco Tours has been granted a permit that allows them to take one group each evening to see a side of the rainforest that few have ever seen or heard. Imagine entering the forest just about one hour before the sun sets and via a guided nature walk tour. Learn about its daytime flora and fauna, walking along a manmade and natural trail that winds its way through the forest to the Mameyes, a wild and scenic river.

If weather conditions permit, guests will be able to take a dip in one of the El Yunque’s finest natural swimming holes, “Las Damas” pool (The Ladies pool) or just relax around the river banks and listen to the rushing water through the rocks. After about 30 minutes, it will be time to start the walk back.

All diurnal animals (active during daylight hours) are preparing to rest, while the nocturnal animals are starting to come to life. The only endemic mammal to the island of Puerto Rico (the bat) takes flight, sounds of the Puerto Rican screech owl are heard in the distance, insects are seen and heard, tree frogs of 17 species start calling out to mates, and aquatic life becomes more present as the El Yunque awakes.

Cost: $88.00 per person, includes tour and transportation.
